IF- THEN- ELSE Any sort of help is appreciated..all the servers of the game aren't working, are these just saved files for the servers to work or something? A: Ok, i created a new game "Správa" in github and all the files are in here and I changed name of the game files to "Správa" I'm downloading it and put it on web and it works fine. the name of.example file should be "Správa.example.txt" Q: jQuery string change / toggle / output depending on array content I have an array of data coming back to me that looks like this: var x = ['field1', 'field2', 'field3', 'field4']; What I would like to do is output the string into a li or div on a single line, so the li would look like: "field1 field2 field3 field4" This can easily be done by doing something like this: if ($.isArray("field1", x) > -1) { $("field1").insertAfter("ul") } However, I am stuck on the concept of how to output it. I tried to do a string split and return the first element, but it gave me a syntax error and I am not sure how to handle that or if it's even the proper way to do this. So I am a bit stuck. A: One option would be to create the text and append it using the Array#reduce method. var x = ['field1', 'field2', 'field3', 'field4'], text = x.reduce(function f678ea9f9e
