2016 and his election loss. "In the months after the 2016 election, Trump complained privately that his defeated opponent, Hillary Clinton, had stolen the election," he writes. "His suspicions about voter fraud were promoted and spread by the right-wing media, as were his false claims of widespread voter fraud. He circulated a baseless allegation that the Clinton campaign had organized a 'sting' operation to trap Trump campaign advisors who met with Russian agents in Trump Tower." ...Ultimately, Trump came to believe that the 2016 election was rigged against him, and that the "fix" had to be in. He even harbored doubts about the legitimacy of his election victory. 'I really did think he was going to pull off a recount,' Trump told Time Magazine last year. 'It made no sense to me that he would give it up.'" ...Trump was never willing to accept that he was f678ea9f9e
